DEAR GREEN BAY SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA FRIEND,

I am pleased to share details of the Green Bay Symphony Orchestra's 2009-2010 season. From towering masterworks of Beethoven and Brahms, to virtuosic concerti of Mozart and Rachmaninoff, to the search for new artistic leadership, this promises to be one of the most exciting and most anticipated seasons in the history of our venerable institution. Once again, we will offer it all to you—our subscribers—at an outstanding value with 6 concerts for the price of 5.

Highlights of the new season include:

- Beethoven's epic Symphony No. 7
- Dvorak's splendid Serenade for Strings
- Mozart's Horn Concerto No. 4 with GBSO Principal Horn, Bruce Atwell
- Renowned master of the keyboard Arnaldo Cohen performing Rachmaninoff's ravishing Second Piano Concerto
- A salute to the "Jedi" of the Silver-screen, John Williams

And, two of Green Bay's favorite holiday traditions will continue with Holiday Pops at the Weidner Center and Cathedral Christmas at St. Francis Xavier Cathedral.

When you order a Premier subscription, you'll receive all 6 concerts for the price of 5—which is like hearing Beethoven's 7th Symphony absolutely FREE. Be sure to order today to receive priority seating.
