

Steve March Tormé To Host GBSO's Symphonic Salute to John Williams
Concert to feature from Star Wars, Harry Potter, E.T., and more!

Green Bay, WI (January 22, 2010) Singer and songwriter, Steve March Tormé, will join the Green Bay Symphony Orchestra as host and emcee of their February 13 concert, A John Williams Pops Spectacular. The concert will feature many of Williams' best-known works for the silver-screen, including Harry Potter, Star Wars, Raiders of the Lost Ark, E.T., Superman, The Cowboys, and much more.

Steve March Tormé was born in New York City to the multi-talented Mel Tormé and the former model, Candy Tockstein. They were divorced when Steve was two-and-a-half years old. Shortly thereafter, Candy married the actor/comedian Hal March, who was the host of NBC-TV's The $64,000 Question Show and subsequently starred in Neil Simon's Come Blow Your Horn on Broadway

Steve has wooed audiences in everything from intimate jazz clubs to festivals and performing arts centers across the country. With a full, rich voice that's been described as "seductive" and "effortless," Steve March Tormé is not just following a legacy, he has started one of his own. More information on Steve March Tormé can be found at www.SteveMarchTorme.com

All patrons attending are invited to partake in the GBSO's costume contest. A top prize will be awarded for the best depiction of a character from one of the films Williams has scored. Contestants will be judged prior to the concert and should plan to register at the GBSO Hospitality Table located in the Main Lobby of the Weidner Center.
